To the people of Orava:

The North American Platform Against Windpower stands with you in your fight against industrial wind energy.

Our members all know the high costs and many devastating impacts of industrial wind — to neighbors, to wildlife, to the environment. They know that its very low return makes it difficult to justify its erection anywhere. With the consistent reports of health effects from loss of sleep and the action of low-frequency throbbing, they certainly should not be in rural areas near where people live.

Keep fighting, as we all must. Together.
